LONDON, June 17.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The long anticipated debate on the Imperial preference resolutions adopted by the last economic conference in London opened tonight in the House of Commons with the leaders of every party, except the deputy Liberal leader, Lloyd George, listening to the opening speeches.

The preference resolutions come before the House on the evening at a high level and were free from party bickering and interruption.

Sir Philip Lloyd-Greaves, former President of the Board of Trade, opened the debate by giving the attention to the first conference resolution, which was the Imperial preference of duty free, his first point being that the kind of preference would encourage small holdings in the Dominion.

Preference is favored... Preference, not subsidy, was the right policy, he said, adding that subsidies had to be raised either by the British taxpayer or by the Dominion taxpayer, and that they were not to be given to the Dominion.

Sir Philip said the Canadian government had also been given the preference as a reciprocal act, Great Britain had given it to Canada. There was a difference between the Dominion of the United States, averring that the Dominion was not a Dominion Great Britain failed to give consideration to the best interests of the Dominion.

As for the "best interests of the Dominion," he said, he had heard that the Dominion had been given the preference as a reciprocal act, Great Britain had given it to Canada. MORNING NEWS OF THE MARKETS

Easier Tendency Is Shown But Prices Advance Still More On Winnipeg Market

WINNIPEG, June 17.—In spite of an earlier tendency around the opening of today's wheat market showed further advances. The trade on the whole was not so broad as on previous days. Considerable "long" wheat came out early in the session but good buying developed and values reacted from the lower opening, which was influenced by a sharp drop in Liverpool cables. When the buying power waned the market became dull again and prices sagged until just before the close, when another good buying wave developed which carried quotations upward, July finishing 1½c, October 1½c and December 1½c over Monday's close. The undertone remained firm.
